Armistice Conference Arranged
To Be Held Tuesday May Prevent War

(By Associated Press)
Constantinople, Oct. 2.—An immediate mutual agreement to suspend all movements of troops is expected here today as the first outcome of the Mudania armistice conference which meets tomorrow.

With the armistice conference definitely fixed for tomorrow at Mudania, the peril of war between Great Britain and Turkey appeared less menacing today.

Great Britain's recession from the neutral zone controversy has caused no little surprise here but it is generally admitted that this step was the only thing that could have stayed Mustafa Kemal Pasha's hand.

And Christian Nations Look On

Constantinople, Oct. 2.—The cries of Christian refugees from Smyrna for water and food met with a Turkish lash," said Dr. Esther Lovejoy, of New York, president of the American Women's hospital, who returned here after a survey of the stricken city. She declared the world had not been told the real story of the Smyrna fire and the horror.

She asserted that there are still several hundred Greek and Christian women in Smyrna and the interior who are in peril. She said the crowds on the quay were a great some of them were not held in the sea. The women stood waist deep in water holding their babies aloft to save them from drowning. At night Turkish soldiers committed excesses against the women and girls.

Well, Listen To This

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 2.—President Harding believes the people are beginning to be convinced that the election of a democratic House of Representatives in November would be little short of a calamity. Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the republican congressional campaign committee, said today after a White House visit. He said previous estimates of a republican majority of 20 in the next house had been revised upward to 75.

Starts Young

Though Babe Ruth's daughter, Dorothy, is only 16 months old, she's already walking in the footsteps of her daddy, the king of swat, as this picture shows.

WILL PUT COAL PEACE INTO EFFECT

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, Oct. 2.—Barrington operators and officials of United Mine Workers gathered here today for a conference to arrange future wage scales, in accordance with the agreement signed here August 15, which ultimately ended the soft coal strike. The conference is also expected to take up the question of collective bargaining. The Cleveland agreement provides for appointment of two committees today, one to investigate the coal industry and the other to formulate a middle in negotiating new contracts. A "mother meeting" next January is understood the miners will insist upon selection of a joint committee empowered to draft method of negotiations.

SWIFT'S PRODUCE REVIEW

Receipts of poultry, especially of spring chickens continue to show an increase, which is seasonal. Because of the large supply prices have declined somewhat. Indications point to a very large crop to be marketed the next three months.

There is a light supply of fresh eggs and the price tendency is upward. Fine new laid eggs are in demand and command top prices.

Cranberry butter production, show a slight increase in some sections on account of better pasture conditions. A good demand prevails and the market is steady.

GOLD PLATE REPLACES RIBS

German With Expensive Metal In His Interior Is Closely Protected Against Criminals.

Berlin.—A young man with ribs of gold and platinum is working in a cigarette factory at Breslau. When he was a locksmith's apprentice several years ago he fell from the roof of a house and was badly injured. He was taken to a hospital where the doctors found that his skull was fractured and all his ribs but one were broken. The youth was in the hospital for no less than four and a half years, and finally the surgeons undertook to repair or replace his shattered ribs.

A metal plate was inserted in his skull and the fractured bones were replaced by ribs of gold and platinum. Two and a half years later the man was able to leave the hospital, and since then he has been working in a cigarette factory. In view of the present value of gold and platinum, it is evident that he is carrying about in his body quite a considerable amount of wealth, and it is stated that special measures are being taken to protect him against criminals.

PAINT LICK WINS LAST GAME OF SEASON

Clell Tatum, who is to pitch for Richmond against the Louisville Colonels here on Oct. 12, twirled the Paint Lick nine to a shut-out victory over the Dixie Ice Cream team from Lexington at Paint Lick Friday. He allowed only 5 hits. The game was a real pitchers' battle from start to finish. Tatum, however, holding the enemy at his mercy throughout. He is sore to prove the only pitcher in this neck of the woods to face Louisville. Paint Lick scored one tally in the first and two others in the second. One from that time on they were the victims of sterling pitching. Tatum struck out 15 of the men who faced him while his team cracked out eight hits in scoring their three runs.

This was the last game which will be played by the Paint Lick nine which has won more games than lost. The lineup to face the Lexington team was as follows: Tatum, pitcher; Roop, catcher; Lewis first; S. Rogers, second; Ginter short; Lackey, third; Dunn left; Hensley center; and Daer-on right.

SEIZE BEGGAR'S COSTLY CAR

Horton Malone After Day's "Work" Dresses in Tuxedo and Silk Shirt.

New York.—Under an attachment for $100 City Marshal Hirsch seized the costly automobile in which Horton A. Malone, beggar street beggar, rides about with his wife after he has done his day's work collecting money.

Malone has a bank account and an apartment. When he is not "working the streets" here, he and his wife attend country fairs where she runs a concession and he sells pencils, showing himself about on a board fixed on roller skates.

At home he dresses in tuxedo, silk shirt and diamonds. The $100 attachment followed a suit which Henry Frank, lawyer, brought for services in connection with trouble Malone's chauffeur got into. Malone said he would fight the lawsuit.

GINTER IS SENT TO SHORT BY HISLE

Richmond baseball fans are becoming very enthusiastic about the game here October 12 with the Louisville Colonels and especially so since they know the type of team which is to take the field for the locals. The old reliable shortstop, George Ginter, has been secured to cover his old position against the Colonels. This will add great strength to the local defense and offense. George has a great record having started his career with the Eastern Normal nine several years ago and playing all over the country. On the Eastern nine he was the star for several years at short. From there he went into the old Blue Grass league playing second for Richmond. He returned to short when he signed with the A. H. Bond club of the Mountain State League a little later. After that he played semi-pro ball with Jenkins, still covering short. Other places where Ginter displayed his wares are Lebanon, of the Florida State League, Macon, Ga., of the South Atlantic League, Norwood, a Cincinnati team, and some with Winchester in the Blue Grass league this season. In the season of 1920 he played short for Winchester when they had the best semi-pro team in the state.

All of the fans know what a real player George is and that the Colonels will find a stumbling block in him. He is one of the best ever produced in this part of the country and Manager Hisle is to be congratulated upon securing his services.

REDS FINISH SECOND

Cincinnati, Oct. 2.—Cincinnati won both games of a double header from Pittsburg Sunday and took second place in the final championship standing in the National League. The scores were 5 to 4 and 5 to 1. Due to the cracking of the Pittsburg infield in the last inning of the first game, the Reds were enabled to snatch victory out of defeat after two men had been retired. In the second game, Rixey, although crippled with a fractured hand, pitched remarkable ball. He would have shut out his opponents but for an error behind him. Glazner was knocked out of the box.

LOST—Gold watch chain; reward if returned to Frank Devere.

PLUNGES TO DEATH IN RIVER IN CAR

Mrs. Millard Farthing Drowns
Sunday Afternoon When She
Loses Control of Machine

Mrs. Millard Farthing of Shearwater, was drowned about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Booneboro on the Kentucky river when an automobile, which she was trying to learn to drive, got beyond her control and plunged down the bank into the river. A niece, Miss Quisenberry, was with her in the car at the time but she was rescued before the waters of the river closed over the car. The body of Mrs. Farthing was recovered some time later but the car was not found Sunday.

Mrs. Farthing had gone to the river for an outing with a party of friends. The car was parked facing the river bank and left while the picnic lunch was eaten. Soon afterward, Mrs. Farthing remarked: "I'm going to learn to drive that car right now," and seated herself at the wheel, her niece getting in with her.

The picnic was held right at the site of Daniel Boone's fort and there was little in the way of shrubbery at that point to prevent the machine rolling right on into the river once it got started. Mrs. Farthing seemed unable to manage the car and before noon could reach her, it plunged down the declivity to the river. The screams of the two women were audible as the car slid on toward the water below. The car is said to have turned over twice as it hurtled downward. A number saw the tragedy being enacted before their very eyes but were powerless to do a thing to prevent it and stood horror-stricken. Members of the picnic party, however, hastened to do what they could but were unable to reach the machine in time to give the least assistance toward regaining control of it, and before a thing could be done it had hit into the river. Every effort was then made to rescue the two women, but only Miss Quisenberry could be gotten out in time to save her life.

Millard Farthing, husband of the victim, is L. & N. agent at Shearwater station, now called by the name of Booneboro.

WOMAN LEADS INDIANS

Mrs. Alice Davis First Feminine Chief in History.

Only Woman Congressman Gives Roses to Mother Who Obtained Great Honor Through Hard Work for Her People.

Muskogee, Okla.—The first woman chief in the history of the North American Indians is Mrs. Alice B. Davis, who recently was installed as leader of the Seminole tribe. The Seminoles were among the first to be civilized.

No Indian ceremony in the last 20 years was as elaborate as Mrs. Davis' inaugural. The courtroom at Muskogee was filled to capacity for the event. Tribal leaders from all parts of the state gathered to pay honor to the only woman chief in Indian history.

There was added sentiment to the ceremony when the only two Alices of their kind met. Miss Alice Robertson, the only woman member of congress, presented Mrs. Alice Davis, the only woman Indian chief, a bouquet of roses following the inauguration.

Mrs. Davis is a member of the "Tiger" clan, which has supplied, with but one exception, every chief of the Seminoles. She is the mother of seven daughters and four sons. Five of the daughters and three granddaughters witnessed the ceremony at Muskogee.

CUTTING FERTILIZER COST

The basis of practically all mixed fertilizers is phosphoric acid which is obtained from phosphate rock. While this country has larger deposits of this mineral than any other nation, we are throwing away several million tons annually because of the present methods of preparing phosphate fertilizer. The scientists of the bureau of soils of the Department of Agriculture are endeavoring to eliminate this tremendous loss, so have installed an oil burning furnace with an auxiliary equipment for the production of phosphoric acid. Photo shows W. H. Waggoner, expert in this work, ascertaining the value of various gases evolved from the furnace. In order to extract the full value of the gases drawn off during a furnace run, their composition must be accurately determined.

SWORDFISH INDUSTRY BOOMS

Rivals Manufacture of Steel at Cape Breton Ports—Shipped to Boston.

Montreal.—Swordfishing out of Cape Breton ports bids fair to become a rival as an industry of the steel manufacture in Sydney, according to record-breaking shipments of swordfish to Boston during the season now commencing.

Last season the shipments from Louisbourg to Boston alone amounted to well over 1,000,000 pounds.

It has been said that the people who engage in the swordfisheries in Cape Breton outnumber those employed by the steel plants. The fish are caught, cleaned, iced, boxed and shipped in a special fleet of refrigerator cars by the most direct route to Boston.

S. S. S. Fills Out Hollow Cheeks, Thin Limbs!

Men and women, whether you will ever build yourself up to your normal, just-right weight depends on the number of blood-cells in your blood. That's all there is to it. It's a scientific fact. If your blood-cell factory isn't working right, you will be run-down, thin, your blood will be in disorder, and perhaps your face will be broken out with pimples, blackheads and eruptions. S. S. S. keeps your blood-cell factory working full time. It helps build new blood-cells. That's why S. S. S. builds up thin, run-down people, it puts firm flesh on your bones, it rounds out your face, gives neck, limbs, the whole body. It puts the "pink" in your cheeks. It takes the hollowness from the eyes, and it fools Father Time by smoothing out wrinkles in men and women by "plumping" them up. S. S. S. is a remarkable blood-purifier. While you are getting plump, your skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, acne, rheumatism, rash, tetter, blotches are being removed. The medicinal ingredients of S. S. S. are guaranteed purely vegetable. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

WASHINGTON OUT OF PLACE

Capital of Country Should Be Located Thousand Miles Inland From Present Site—Locate Center of Alaska.

Washington, Boston, Mass., is a very important place to a great many people, but, so far as the United States geological survey is concerned, Boston as a "Hub," as it claims to be, doesn't amount to a row of pins.

Boston, too, prides itself on being the "Hub of the Universe," but the survey ranks it at the bottom of the list of hubs, or centers.

For the geological survey thinks that a city is a hub only when it is the center of the land, geographically speaking, and points the finger of scorn at the Massachusetts city for not even being the center of the state of which it happens to be the capital—much less of any universe.

Honor for the Smiths. The survey has received a lot of letters of inquiry from persons wanting to know "where they're at," where the geographical center of the United States is, or the center of their own state. The survey has taken great pains in locating the various geographical centers around the continent.

The center of the United States, according to the geodetic survey, is at exactly 39 degrees 50 minutes north latitude, and 98 degrees 33 minutes west longitude. It may be said that point is in northern Kansas, in Smith county, in fact, Trust the Smiths to be there.

The ideal "hub" of population, government and industry, should also be the geographical center, the survey believes, but that is true in few, if any cases. "Hubs" just grow up regardless, and the center of population in this country is yearly moving westward.

Washington Out of Place. Even Washington, the nation's capital, is wrongly situated, from the geographer's point of view, and should be at least a thousand miles inland from its present site to better approach the geographical center of the country. St. Louis, Denver and other cities have been mentioned at various times as more fitting sites for the center of government.

The geological survey of the Interior department has fixed the approximate locations of the geographical centers of each state.

The geographical center of Alaska is difficult to determine, for the outline of the territory is very irregular, but if the outlying islands are included in the determination it is not far from a point 95 miles south of Fort Gibbons, in latitude 63 degrees 46 minutes, longitude 152 degrees 20 minutes.

Mrs. Henry White, Mrs. H. L. Perry Mrs. James West and Mrs. Julian Tyng and Miss Dorothy Perry will go to Lexington Tuesday to attend the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Embury Allen.

ARMY IN NEED OF MORE FLYERS

Secretary of War Says United States Is Lagging in March of Aviation.

STUDIES AVIATION IN EUROPE

General Mitchell Reports Result of Two Months' Investigation Abroad—Legislation Needed Requiring Inspection of Airplanes.

Washington.—For the time being at least the United States is lagging behind the march of aviation progress. This is, however, a condition which must and will be remedied if Secretary of War Weeks has anything to say in the matter—and he has.

The secretary of war lately declared that the European nations, particularly those of them like Great Britain and France, that have attained the utmost degree of efficiency in the flying art on the military as well as on the commercial side, are spending much more money in the development of aviation, are developing superior types of machines and in general are quite a few steps in advance of the United States.

Studied Aviation Abroad.
The secretary of war is making a study of the status of aviation here and abroad with a view to putting the United States in the forefront of the march. He received lately from Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, assistant chief of the aviation service, the result of two months' investigation the latter has made of conditions in Europe.

Incidentally Bill Mitchell, one of the veteran flyers of the country, told the secretary of war of a unique experience he had the other day in the vicinity of Detroit when making a flight from Chicago. General Mitchell ran into a thunder cloud which had a length of at least 120 miles.

General Mitchell had never in his previous experience run into a storm of this size. Thunder clouds, always a deterrent to aviators, usually measure about twenty miles and by flying on the edge of them the aviator can get into the open in short time. After skirting the edge of this cloud for some eighty miles General Mitchell found that it extended still forty miles.

Discussing his visit with General Mitchell, who had just completed a trip from McCook field, Dayton, O., to Bolling field, Secretary Weeks said that General Mitchell believes that stricter examination and licensing is the great prerequisite to the development of commercial aviation in the United States.

Before the general public can feel assurance regarding commercial air routes the secretary said there must be legislation that provides rigid inspection of airplanes and the licensing of pilots. Federal regulations are deemed the most appropriate, as these would eliminate discrepancies in laws and conduce to uniformity.

Encourage Commercial Aircraft.
From the standpoint of the War department the development of commercial aircraft should have every encouragement for the reason that it would provide for the army a great reserve of competent pilots and officers in any national emergency.

At the present time there is no law providing for the inspection or regulation of pilots or their machines when engaged in commercial service, and this fact, the secretary of war believes, has given rise to many of the accidents that have occurred.

As an example of the degree of safety which may be attained in commercial flying the secretary of war instanced the fact that one commercial line operating between Miami Fla. and Nassau has carried 50,000, to 100,000 passengers without an accident. The same company that operates the Miami-Nassau route is now interested in developing an air route between Detroit and Cleveland by way of the lake.

BIRTHS FEWER; DEATHS GAIN

Census Bureau Reports Shrinkage in New Arrivals in First Quarter of Year.

Washington, D. C.—The birth rate is declining and the death rate increasing, according to statistics made public by the census bureau covering the first quarter of the year.

The birth rate in the states from which comparative figures are available shows an average of 23.3 for each thousand of population in the first three months of 1922, compared with 25.3 in 1921, while the mortality average in the registration area in the first quarter of this year was 13.7, against 12.6 in the same period last year.

North Carolina, with 29.2, reported the highest birth rate for the first three months this year, and the state of Washington, with 16.5, the lowest. The District of Columbia had the highest mortality rate, with 17.6, and Wyoming the lowest, with 9.6.

VET HAS TWIN BRAINS

Shell Shock and Accident Make Unusual Case.

Ex-Service Man Writes With Both Hands Easily, but Left Fingers Make Letters Backward and Upside Down.

Denver, Colo.—Thought to have two brains, one of which is almost a blank, and the other directing him to do strange things, Hayward Thompson of Kansas City, Mo., a World war veteran, is being treated in a hospital here, where he wandered under the alias of Thomas A. Anderson, fully convinced that it was his right name.

Operations and hypnosis are being resorted to to return Thompson's memory, lost during the World war when he was shell shocked. The effect of the shell shock and a motorcycle accident a few months before are thought to have separated Thompson's brain into two individual parts.

Thompson is able to write with both hands at the same time. Writing produced with his right hand is well formed, but that of his left hand is upside down and backward. A mirror has to be used to read it.

Thompson is also able to draw cartoons with some technical ability, although before his injury he was unable to draw an intelligent picture, friends say.

Thompson's memory is a blank for the days that preceded the World war. During the time he was in the service his wife divorced him and his mother died, army officials have discovered. Thompson remembers neither his wife nor his mother.

The veteran's skull has been wired together, physicians say, and this leads to the theory that the brain is probably in two distinct parts. The wiring is probably the result of injuries suffered in the motorcycle accident.

The case of twin brains is similar to twin children, physicians say, who are one body until a short time before they are born. One of Thompson's brains is normal, although a blank concerning recent years, but the other is his subnormal mind, which now directs his actions.

BURIAL RITUAL BY WIRELESS

Ship Captain Didn't Have Prayer Book, So He Sends Out Call for Help.

Liverpool.—There have been many stories of the strange uses to which wireless communication has been put on the high seas, but the Canadian liner Curmudge brought in a new one on her arrival here from New York.

While off the Irish coast the liner's operator picked up a message asking that the ritual for burial at sea be sent in full. The strange request came from the Canadian government steamer Canadian Trooper, whose captain found he had no prayer book when confronted with the necessity of burying one of the firemen at sea. The Curmudge supplied his need.

Proud Jap Battleship, Facing Scrap Pile, Sinks

Kure, Japan.—The old battleship Suvo, formerly the Pobeda, which Admiral Togo's fleet sank at the entrance to Port Arthur harbor on the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese war in 1904, and which Japan raised, refitted and named, has met a prosaic end. She was having her armament removed preparatory to scrapping when she suddenly listed and sank in deep water.
